

The ODC actively engages in cooperative educational programs with many area organizations and individuals including educational agencies and institutions, conservation agencies, grassroots environmental organizations, local businesses, and the public.

Since there are no state parks in Armstrong County, the Outdoor Discovery Center at Crooked Creek is uniquely suited to fulfill the need for a facility to provide environmental and resource conservation education. Unlike state parks, the ODC must rely on grants, user fees, donations, and sponsors to sustain operation.

MEMORIAL BENCHES

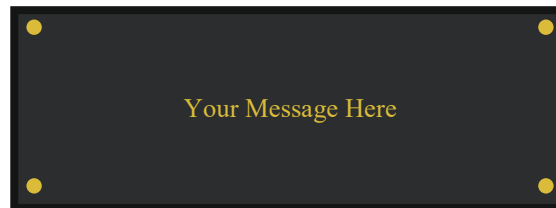

Providing an engaging experience for natural discovery through education, recreation, and outreach.

Memorial Bench Program

Now you can help us fulfill our mission by participating in our memorial bench program. These benches were designed by conservationist Aldo Leopold and will give visitors a comfortable place to sit and enjoy nature while at the ODC. Each bench will have a name plate on which you can honor or commemorate someone, or just let others know that you support the ODC. The cost of a bench is $200.

Most importantly, your support comes with the pride and satisfaction of helping us to provide Armstrong County with environmental education opportunities and improve the quality of life in our community.

Yes! I would like to help support the efforts of the Outdoor Discovery Center at Crooked Creek to provide an engaging experience for natural discovery through education, recreation, and outreach.
